

City Point, London

Case Study

The entrance to serviced offices at City Point in London. A record K41 four wing revolving door has been installed here with the underfloor drive unit connected by a continuous drive shaft. The drum wall consist of glass and all visible components with a brushed stainless steel finish.

City Point, London

Case Study

