

Tower Place, London

Case Study

The east entrance at Tower Place in London was designed by architects Foster and Partners. This installation is a fully automatic record K41 four wing revolving door and has an all-glass drum with visible parts anodised. The operating drive for this revolving door is concealed beneath the floor in a casing which protects it from water and dirt.

Tower Place, London

Case Study

Tower Place, London

Case Study

